Long Island Network of Community Services Holds 8th Annual Chef's Secrets Event at the deSeversky Mansion, Old Westbury

January 27, 2013 The Long Island Network of Community Services is holding its 8th Annual Chef's Secrets event at the de Seversky Mansion in Old Westbury. Chef's Secrets is a food and wine tasting event whose proceeds help fund programs for the Long Island Association for AIDS Care, Inc. (LIAAC) and BiasHELP, Inc. by either helping to ease the lives of those infected or affected by HIV/AIDS or by bringing awareness to the ever-growing problem of bullying, techno-bullying and hate crimes throughout Long Island. The event was postponed from November 4, 2012 due to the resulting conditions from Hurricane Sandy. The event will be held from 6 to 9pm, with a VIP cocktail hour from 5-6pm.

Honorees are Robert P. McBride, Senior Vice President Business Development, Park Strategies, LLC and Humberto Cruz, Director, New York State Department of Health AIDS Institute. Some of the Chefs who are scheduled to attend are; Anthony Castelli from LaParma II, Christina Costanzo from the Melting Pot, Robert Ehrlich and George Schneider from Star Career Academy, Mario Pecoraro from Arlotta Food Studio, Christopher Taylor from Chris and Tell Cakes, Julio Velasquez from Sage Bistro and Renzo Pedrazzi from La Marmite. Stone Grissom from News 12 will be the Master of Ceremonies and Chef Robert Ehrlich will be auctioning off his services at the event to the lucky bidder! The Live Auction will also give guests the opportunity to bid on trips, attend special events and win luxury items. Generous gift baskets will be offered at the Chinese Auction and "Mystery Boxes" will be available for sale. There will be a 50/50 Raffle which will offer a chance of splitting a maximized pot of $25,000! With over 350 attendees, last year's event raised over $150,000 to help support LIAAC and BiasHELP.
